The Minneapolis Journal, Minnesota, February 8, 1905

Judging by the new killyoumobile shops appearing everywhere, some of us are destined not to cross the streets anywhere in the suburbs next year.

COAL CONSUMPTION AFFECT- ING CLIMATE.

The furnaces of the world are now burning about 2,000,000,000 tons of coal a year. When this is burned, uniting with oxygen, it adds about 7,000,000,000 tons of carbon dioxide to the atmosphere yearly. This tends to make the air a more effective blanket for the earth and to raise its temperature. The effect may be considerable in a few centuries.

Was "killyoumobile shop" at one time slang for a car or truck?

Mostly surprised that suburbs were a thing you'd casually reference pre-mainstream cars.

Before the post-WWII boom, 'suburbs' used to simply mean any residential area outside the city center.
