Oh man, everyone. LinkedIn could totally be the bad place. So many posts that read like they were written after AI read the transcripts of bad corporate sales conferences.

Pfft there's a million different sites you could use in place of Twitter.

Writing a fanfic inspired by that shitty JK R*wing twitter book on AO3 but its gimmick is that it's just the tweets I'd make normally and it's an interactive story where readers can comment and reply to it
