No shade to all of these Twitter alternatives but they're all pitching themselves as a home for civil conversation when what I actually want is a unlimited chaos goblins and then a bunch of us going 'boy, that's nuts'

I want bean dad and Lizzo gift dress discourse, one right after the other.
Don't make me hunt for it.

Whenever enough people migrate (toot toot) the migrants will take over the culture and the fun will carry on.

Yes, absolutely. I want to be able to watch it from a safe distance, then snark about it without being dragged into it.

Part of what makes Twitter good is it capture that energy, but made it far more accessible. I was on Tumblr during the peak years, it was definitely more niche. Twitter let everyone in on that chaotic internet energy.
