NEW: Twitter just alerted employees that effective immediately, all office buildings are temporarily closed and badge access is suspended. No details given as to why.

We're hearing this is because Elon Musk and his team are terrified employees are going to sabotage the company. Also, they're still trying to figure out which Twitter workers they need to cut access for.

Offices will reopen on November 21st. In the meantime: "Please continue to comply with company policy by refraining from discussing confidential company information on social media, with the press or elsewhere."

This is likely to prevent employees from sabotage but this just seems like it'll be more likely for them to do sabotage.

So is he just giving everyone a day off tomorrow (and everyone on call is off for the weekend)? Because otherwise how does closing the physical office achieve this totally bs objective?

Someone has to say it: Elon Musk has lied for 27 years about his credentials. He does not have a BS in Physics, or any technical field. Did not get into a PhD program. Dropped out in 1995 & was illegal. Later, investors quietly arranged a diploma - but not in science. 1/

Eberhard v. Musk, 2009 - San Mateo County Superior Court, CIV 484400
 2. Musk Misrepresents his Degree from the University of Pennsylvania
 110. Musk has falsely claimed to have a degree in Physics from the University of Pennsylvania than he obtained in 1995, when in fact has no such degree and the only degree he holds was obtained later than that. Upon information and belief, Musk's only known undergraduate degree is a Bachelor of Science in Economics, obtained from the University of Pennsylvania in May 1997. Musk's misrepresentations regarding his undergraduate degrees include, but are not limited to the following statements.
 111. The above-described August 17, 1999, article on salon.com (see Exhibit 32 above) states that Musk "stayed on another year [at the University of Pennsylvania] to finish a second degree in physics."
 112. The above-described April 15, 2003, usatoday.com article (see Exhibit 33 above) states that Musk earned an undergraduate degree in physics from the University of Pennsylvania.
 113. The above-described June 2008 profile of Musk on howstuffworks.com (see Exhibit 35 above) states that Musk has degrees in both physics and business from the University of Pennsylvania.
 114. The above-described profile and article on the Wired Entrepreneur (see Exhibit 33 above) states that Musk "decided to stay in Pennsylvania for another year [1995-6] to complete a second bachelor's degree in physics." Musk has even misrepresented his educational background in statements made in formal public filings. In various Securities Registration Statements filed for PayPal with the Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC"), Musk repeatedly represented himself as having received a B.S. from the University of Pennsylvania and a B.S. in Economics from the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania in 1995. A true and correct copy of SEC Form S-1 filed on September 28, 2001, is attached hereto as Exhibit "37." A true and correct copy of SEC Form S-1/A filed on February 7, 2002, is attached hereto as Exhibit "38." A true and correct copy of SEC Form S-1 filed on June 12, 2002, is attached hereto as Exhibit "39."

Remember when he looked to make sure there weren't ghost employees?
With some of these, you gotta wonder if he isn't just paranoid because of some sort of drug withdrawal

If Twitter wants to stop sabotage from happening within the company maybe Elon Musk should just leave and not come back.
